The purpose for this letter is in regards to the New Driver and Instructor tests that were mailed out recently. We have been receiving phone calls about some of the questions and answers. A couple of points brought to our attention have been either the wording in the question or the answer being incorrect. We are currently working on fixing these problems. As soon as these have been remedied, we will let you know. A new mailing will probably be required. In the meantime, please make any necessary changes with what you know to be the correct answer.

Thanks you,
